

UPCYCLE YOUR LIFE

TRANSFORMING TRASH INTO TREASURE

Sunday 8th March

11 - 1 pm

Ente 39, Entenbachstr. 39, München

"If life gives you lemons, make lemonade"

€ 20,-

Part 1

We explore different waste materials and their qualities, textures and potential. We use our own imagination and creativity to transform them into new and interesting products.

Part 2:

For those who prefer more guidance and create existing craft designs, we will make flowers, cards, envelopes, fancy gift bags, art objects, page marker monsters from old books, magazines, & maps to take home or use as gifts.

In the serene surrounding of the Ente 39, Kat Heinrich, author of "Upcycling - zu schade für die Tonne" and enthusiastic upcycling artisan will show you how to transform paper into various products and help you with your own ideas

A cosy afternoon well spent making goodies, chatting to lovely people and sipping on tea/coffee and cookies.

If you can, please bring:

scissors, pritt stick, old books, card, calendars, maps, magazines, wrapping paper, glue, fabric and various trash materials from packaging etc that inspires you, and a bag/container to bring the delicate objects home without breaking

Workshop Leader:

Aside from her main focus as singer, musician, Ukoholic and music teacher, (BA Music Performance Falmouth University, Musik Pädagogik Orff Institut, Salzburg) Katharina Heinrich is a writer and upcycling artisan. In her successful 2015 publication of her book "Upcycling - zu schade für die Tonne" she presents the importance of awareness of resources and 30 upcycling projects with instructions. Since then she has been giving interactive upcycling workshops and talks in English and German in Austria and Germany, in bookstores (Thalia Dresden, TIMTextilmuseum Augsburg, Bücher Pustet Landshut, Maker Faire Munich, Maker Faire Vienna, Kreativmarkt Augsburg, Herzmarkt München, Karusa München, etc) and sells her products and clothes at creative Faires. You can order many of her products in person or at www.musicwhatelse.com
